Shipping Routing Share via Facebook Share via Twitter Share via Linkedin Share via Google+ Share via Reddit Share via Mail Shipping Routing is a table management software which enables international freight forwarding companies to route global shipments for a specific delivery destination by analyzing, scheduling and tracking the shipment in real-time. The freight forwarding company which provides services to clients in various zones can use it to analyze and optimize the shipping routes and shipping cost. Thus, the customer only pays for the successful delivery of the shipment (in most cases). Shipping Routing works with all ocean carriers and major land carriers. User reviews of Shipping Routing Each review can be viewed by clicking on the name of the reviewer assigned to it. You may have noticed you couldn't play most games on the new Windows 10 PCs Microsoft sent out to preview users earlier this week. It's because Microsoft is keeping off the dedicated game card slot on the new PC. Yes, Microsoft is reverting back to the old days of game cards being a peripheral that cost extra. [via GamePolitics] The article doesn't explicitly say it, but it looks like this is going to become necessary to allow game cards in PC games you already own to work with the new Xbox. If Microsoft hadn't done this, that PC game's audio and video card would be confused by the lack of a game card and no one would have any idea. See also: Handbrake. Game cards are pretty much dead, at least for a while, so this isn't the worst move in the world. I'm just looking forward to the day when the dedicated game card slots disappear from PCs. And that day is likely to be a lot sooner than we'd like. [via TechSpot] Unusual cause of fever in a patient with chronic renal failure--streptococcal glomerulonephritis. Infections are the leading cause of morbidity and mortality in patients with chronic renal failure (CRF). In order to detect possible infectious episodes, a high index of suspicion is needed because of the many clinical manifestations that could be mimicked by the comorbid conditions that affect these patients. We describe the case of a 50-year-old patient with CRF due to chronic pyelonephritis, who, in the course of the disease, developed a fever with splenomegaly and glomerulonephritis, which were initially misdiagnosed
